Notice of Privacy Practices for Protected Health Information

THIS NOTICE DESCRIBES HOW MEDICAL INFORMATION ABOUT YOU MAY BE USED AND DISCLOSED AND HOW YOU CAN GET ACCESS TO THIS INFORMATION.

PLEASE REVIEW IT CAREFULLY

This office is required by a federal regulation, known as the HIPAA Privacy Rule, to maintain the privacy of your health information and to provide you with notice of its legal duties and privacy practices. This office will not use or disclose your health information except as described by this Notice.

This office is permitted by federal privacy laws to make uses and disclosures of your health information for purposes of treatment, payment and health care operation. Protected health information is the information we create and obtain in providing our services to you. The health information about you is documented in a medical record or on a computer. Such information may include documenting your symptoms, medical history, examination and test results, diagnoses, treatment, and applying for future care or treatment. It also includes billing documents for those services.

Examples of uses of your health information for treatment purposes are:

- A nurse or medical assistant obtains treatment information about you and records it in a health record.
- During the course of your treatment, the physician determines what he/she will need to consult with another specialist in the area. He/she will share the information with such specialist and obtain his/her input.

Examples of use of your health information for payment purposes:

- We submit requests for payment to your health insurance company. The health insurance company (or other business associate helping us obtain payment) requests health information from us regarding medical care given. We will provide information to them about you and the care given, which may include copies or excerpts of your medical record which are necessary for payment of our account. For example, a bill sent to your health insurance company may include information that identifies your diagnosis, and the procedures and supplies used.

Examples of use of your health information for health care operations:

- We obtain services from our insurers or other business associates (an individual or entity under contact with us to perform or assist us in a function or activity that necessitates the use or disclosure of health information) such as quality assessment, quality improvement, outcome evaluation, protocol and clinical guidelines development, training programs, credentialing, medical transcription, medical review, legal services, and insurance. We will share health information about you with our insurers or other business associates as necessary to obtain these services. We require our insurers and other business associates to protect the confidentiality of your health information.

Your Health Information Rights

The health and billing records we maintain are the physical property of our office.

You have a right to:

1. Receive the Notice of our Privacy Practices (this Notice) that tells you how your health information may be used and shared. In most cases, this Notice should be made available to you on your first visit, and you can ask for a copy of it at any time.
2. Inspect and obtain a copy of your health records. You can ask to see and get a copy of your Protected Health Information (PHI). We may deny your request to inspect and obtain a copy of your PHI in certain limited circumstance. You have the right to appeal the denial.
3. Amend your health information. You may request that we amend any incorrect or incomplete PHI that we maintain about you. For example, if we both agree that your file has the wrong test result, we will change it. In certain cases, we may deny your request for amendment. If we deny your request for amendment you have the right to disagree with our decision.
4. Authorize disclosure of your PHI. In general, your health information will not be given to your employer, used or shared for things like sales calls or marketing, or used or shared for many other purposes unless you give your permission by signing an authorization form.
5. Request a report on how we disclosed your health information. Under the law, your health information may be used and shared for particular reasons. You can request a list of all non-authorized disclosures and who your health information has been shared with.
6. Request to be contacted at different address or in a different way than we contact you now. You have the right to ask us to contact you about your PHI at a different address or in a different way than we contact you now. For example, you can have the nurse call you at your office instead of your home. These requests are often made when a person feels his or her health or safety is in danger if PHI is sent to his or her home address. We will do our best to accommodate all reasonable requests.
7. Request restrictions on certain use or disclosure of PHI. You can request additional restrictions on the use or disclosure of your PHI. However, we are not required to agree with your request for additional restrictions. You have the right to request restrictions on the use or disclosure of your PHI to a health plan when you (or any other individual other than you or the health plan) pay for the treatment out of pocket and in full.
8. Ask for additional information or file complaints. If you believe your health information was used or shared in a way that is not allowed under the privacy law, or if you were not able to exercise your rights, you can file a complaint with us or with the U.S. Government. This Notice tells you who to talk to and how to file a complaint.

We ask that you exercise your rights in writing. We offer forms and templates to help you exercise your privacy rights and to help us protect your health information. Our front desk staff will make these forms available to you upon your request.
